COMMUNICATING SCIENCE
March 15, 2017

Presenters: Star Coulbrooke, Logan City Poet Laureate and USU Writing Center Director, with Shaun Anderson and Millie Tullis, USU creative writing students and writing center tutor supervisors.

Title: Make it Creative; Make it Relatable

Description: In this workshop, participants will look at how poems and stories can communicate scientific facts/terms/ideas on an emotional level, making the material relatable and therefore memorable. Writing and sharing will follow.
